MERGER OF TWO BANKS ANNOUNCED

Columbus Grove Financial Institutions Are Consolidated
MILLION DOLLAR ASSETS
Lima and Bluffton Men Aid in Combination

Consolidation of the Exchange Bank and the Peoples Bank, of Columbus Grove, will give the community the largest bank in Putnam county, with assets aggregating $1,000,000, H. E. Scott, state superintendent of banks announced Tuesday.

Final details of the merger were worked on in Lima Tuesday at a meeting at which Lima financiers, and representatives of the two Columbus Grove banks were present.

The new bank is to be called the Peoples Exchange Bank. It will have $500,000 capital, fully paid in, and $10,000 surplus.

Practically every banker in Lima has subscribed for a small block of stock, as an individual. W. W. Cunningham, Bluffton banker, is also interested in the new financial concern.

ELECTION AWAITED
Details of the consolidation have not been fully worked out and the new officers and directors of the merger have not been selected.

W. M. Crawford was president of the Exchange Bank and William Bastinger, was president of the Peoples Bank. It is probable that both officers will continue with the new concern.

The former capital of the banks was $30,000 each. Strength of the new bank, based on bankers of Lima and Bluffton, will without question result in its making a very rapid growth.

H. E. Scott, state superintendent of banks, is responsible for the success of the merger. He has been active in the negotiations leading up to its consummation, and has been engaged in the task for several weeks.

Each detail and step in the consolidation has been worked out with the approval of Scott.

Columbus Grove can now justly boast its "million dollar" bank as a result of the merger. Which building will probably be utilized as the home of the combined concern, has not been determined.

UNION SERVICE

Churches of Lima Planning Thanksgiving Observance

Thanksgiving will be observed in the churches of Lima by union services at South Side Church of Christ and First Baptist church, which have been announced by the Lima District association.

All churches south of the city have been invited to take part in the services at South Side church of Christ, while those north of the river have been invited to participate in the services at First Baptist church.

Programs at the two churches will start promptly at 8:30 a. m. at South Side church, where Rev. George B. Towson, pastor of Central Church of Christ, will preach at First Baptist.

Besides the main speaker at each church, other pastors will appear on the program. Special music will be on the program at both churches.

FOUND GUILTY

Former Postal Employee to Learn Fate Saturday

CHICAGO — Sentence will be passed Saturday on Wm. J. Fahy, "Crack" postal inspector and mailman, convicted of complicity in the $7,000,000 mail robbery at Rockford, Ill., last June, pronounced today.

Fahy and Murray were found guilty by a jury, the verdict being returned early this morning. Walter McComb, a third defendant, was acquitted.

Guilty of Fahy and Murray was established on five counts of robbing the mails with a gun and one count of conspiracy to rob the mails. The main sentence was under these counts is 15 years.

Wasted Love On Poodle

CANTON — (By United Press) — A poodle dog alienated the affections of his wife, Leo Koury, charges in a suit for divorce filed here today against Amelia Koury.

He said that she neglected to show him any wifely devotion, but showered her affections on the dog, took it to bed with her, bathed it in the family bath tub and fed it on dishes from which the family ate.

ENGLAND KEEPS FIRM HAND

Hoped New Government Will End Egyptian Crisis

TROOPS PATROL STREETS

Punitive Measures Will Be Refrained From

CAIRO — (By United Press) — Hoping that the establishment of a moderate government under Ziaur Pasha will end the crisis, Great Britain nevertheless kept a firm military grip on Cairo and other dangerous spots today.

British airplanes swooped low over Port Said when crowds gathered threateningly there and dispersed the natives without trouble.

The populace of Cairo was still outwardly calm, altho seething with indignation as Egyptian employees in the customs, the telephone and telegraph administrations were replaced by British.

TROOPS ON HAND
Troops in trench helmets with fixed bayonets patrolled the streets. A few Greek troops and some Sudanese, with antiquated arms, also were on duty in the city.

Britain sent more troops to Egypt today. A regiment of East Lancashire was ordered from Malta to Cairo, while a border regiment was to leave later. The East Kent is coming from Gibraltar on Saturday.

Marines and sailors were in evidence at strategic points in Alexandria guarding the customs houses which were seized as a first punitive measure for Egypt's failure to meet a British demand for reparations for the murder of Sir Lee Stack last week.

Lord Allenby, British high commissioner who is in constant communication with London indicated the British government will refrain from further punitive measures or demands until Ziaur Pasha, who succeeded Zaghlul Pasha, has had an opportunity to establish a moderate government.

The British are glad that Zaghlul Pasha is gone, for it was felt that he was most difficult to deal with. Ziaur's past record as an able administrator and executive is held to be a good omen. He was president of the Egyptian senate at the time of the crisis.

Full active support will be given the new premier if his government proves satisfactory and the present restrictions imposed in Cairo after the assassination of the Sirdar will be relaxed. There is said to be no intention of declaring martial law. The Sudan has been under martial law for some time.

CUSTOMS SEIZED
Lord Allenby, altho he keeps in touch with Prime Minister Baldwin's government is in complete charge here and it was he who ordered the seizure of the customs houses, and the telephones and telegraph.

Altho Egypt has complied with but two of Britain's demands—by apologizing and paying a $2,500,000 indemnity, which will be divided between Lady Lee Stack and benevolent institutions in the Sudan—there has been no war-torn incident otherwise to mar the comparative peace.

GETS $6000 AFTER WAITING 16 YEARS

COLUMBUS—Leslie J. Powers of Cleveland, injured in a street car collision in that city 16 years ago when only ten years of age, will receive $6000 as damages from the Cleveland Railway Co. as a result of the state supreme court today refusing to grant the company a review. The common pleas court had given Powers a judgment for $3000 against the railway company, but the court of appeals reduced the judgment of $3000. The supreme court by refusing a review affirmed the court of appeals. Powers was a passenger on a street car when the collision occurred.

BODY MAY BE EXHUMED FOR TESTS

Friend Says Murdered Woman in Normal State

BLOOD STAINS FOUND

Webb of Evidence Drawn About Unnamed Person

COLUMBUS, O.—(By United Press) — Authorities drew a web of evidence about an unnamed culprit in the Sheatsley furnace mystery today and directed that every agency of the law be bent toward establishing his identity.

There is a possibility, it was learned today, that the remains of Mrs. Sheatsley, which were buried last Thursday at Paris, O., may be exhumed to settle a question as to whether any bones of the head were recovered from the furnace.

COLUMBUS — (By Associated Press) — Mrs. C. V. Sheatsley, wife of the pastor of Christ Evangelical Lutheran church of Bevelly, appeared to be in a normal frame of mind last Monday noon, County Prosecutor John E. King was told at Lithopolis, where she was held at her home today by Mrs. Gladys Redelphs wife of Rev. Harry Redelphs of the village. Mrs. Redelphs visited the Sheatsley home last Monday and was one of the few persons who last saw the minister's wife alive.

King went to Lithopolis today hoping that Mrs. Redelphs might have some information that would help him in solving the mystery of the finding of Mrs. Sheatsley's body in the furnace of her home last Monday evening. He announced at the conclusion of the interview, however, that nothing definite had developed.

PREPARING MEAL
Mrs. Redelphs said she delivered Christmas cards to Mrs. Sheatsley, which the latter had ordered two weeks before. She said she arrived at the Sheatsley home about noon and that she was admitted at the door by Alice, the 13-year-old daughter. Clarence, 16-year-old son, the first one, according to testimony, to find something strange in the furnace, and Mrs. Sheatsley, Mrs. Redelphs told King, were examining the morning mail. Mrs. Sheatsley was in the kitchen preparing lunch.

After a short talk with Mrs. Sheatsley, Mrs. Redelphs said, she left after having declined an invitation to remain for lunch. She said she did not know what Mrs. Sheatsley was getting for the meal.

King found at Lithopolis that Rev. Sheatsley, with President Otto Mees of Capital University here, and other men, were hunting in that section the Saturday preceding the finding of Mrs. Sheatsley's body in the furnace, and that they obtained several rabbits.

After spending the morning in Lithopolis, King returned to his office.

Mr. Sheatsley in a statement at Canton today said that reddish stains which were found by King and his investigators in various places in the Sheatsley home yesterday and which will be analyzed to determine whether or not they are human blood, probably were made by him while dressing rabbits, which he had obtained on the Saturday excursion.

RABBIT BLOOD STAINS
"I returned from a hunting trip on the Saturday before the affair and carried four rabbits down the steps where the stains were found, into the cellar and dressed them near the furnace," said Mr. Sheatsley's statement.

A pair of trousers also found yesterday, and which contained stains, Mr. Sheatsley declared, while on the hunting trip and probably, he said, had been marked by rabbit blood.

On his return here King took under advisement a move to exhumate the body of Mrs. Sheatsley in order that Dr. H. M. Brundage, pathologist who is working on the case, may examine the skull for signs of fracture. At a conference late last night between county authorities and Edwin Abbott, local undertaker, who removed Mrs. Sheatsley's remains from the furnace, Abbott said that he thought a portion of Mrs. Sheatsley's skull had been broken. He indicated, however, that this might have been caused by the intense heat of the furnace.

Convinced that Mrs. Sheatsley was either murdered and cast into the furnace or that she committed suicide and was placed there by

PIGEONS HAVE PART

Early this morning a trap containing six homing pigeons was fastened to the nose of the huge airship. The pigeons will be released by Mrs. Coolidge as part of the christening ceremony today and their return here will be hailed as a symbolic completion of the naming of the giant airship.

Because today's flight represented her first trip under American guidance and because of the substitution of helium for hydrogen with which the ZR-3 was inflated for her trip across the Atlantic, officers here were intensely interested in her handling. Observers reported that the ship in her preliminary movements

MARION PAYS ITS RESPECTS TO FORMER "FIRST LADY"

The little city of Marion, O., sorrowfully turned out to pay its respects to the memory of Mrs. Warren G. Harding. Not since the death of her illustrious husband, the late president, had there been such a display of genuine grief in Marion. Hundreds filed past the flower-banked bier in the home of Mrs. Frank J. Longshore, niece of the former "first lady."

Giant Ship Flies from Lakehurst to Capital

WASHINGTON — (By Associated Press) — The ZR-3, flying from Lakehurst to Washington for christening, arrived over the capital at 12:50 p. m.

Flying comparatively low, the big ship circled over the city before going to Bolling Field.

LAKEHURST, N. J. — (By Associated Press) — Favorable weather conditions early this morning greeted the huge Zeppelin ZR-3 as she was taken from her hangar at the naval air station here in preparation for her flight to Bolling Field, Washington, where she will be christened "Los Angeles" by Mrs. Calvin Coolidge, wife of the president.

With a ground wind of but eight miles an hour from the southeast sweeping the field, naval officials asserted that the ZR-3 would have little trouble making what will be her first flight in the United States since her arrival here under the guidance of her German crew from Friedrichshafen, Germany.

FLIED TO GROUND
Taken from the hangar shortly after six o'clock the ZR-3 was carried to a point several hundred feet from the huge mooring mast here and with 350 men clinging to her landing ropes was held to the ground. It was not planned to leave for Washington before 9 o'clock so that the rising sun might have time to expel the helium with which the ship is inflated.

The line of flight to the capital carries her over Trenton, N. J., Philadelphia, Wilmington, Del., and Baltimore with her arrival at Bolling Field scheduled for about 2 o'clock this afternoon. The ship is due back here about 7 o'clock tonight.

The crew of the ZR-3 today numbered 42 men including 11 of the German crew which brought her here, and two American navy officers who also made the trans-Atlantic flight. Commander J. H. Klein Jr., acting commandant at the naval air station, was in command, with Lieutenant Commander Maurice H. Pierce as executive officer. Both had been attached to the Shenandoah, the American-built dirigible, sister ship to the ZR-3 and at present also an occupant of Lakehurst hangar. Lieutenant Commander Sidney M. Kraus, who with Commander Klein made the trip from Germany in the ZR-2, today was her engineering officer.

Early this morning a trap containing six homing pigeons was fastened to the nose of the huge airship. The pigeons will be released by Mrs. Coolidge as part of the christening ceremony today and their return here will be hailed as a symbolic completion of the naming of the giant airship.

Because today's flight represented her first trip under American guidance and because of the substitution of helium for hydrogen with which the ZR-3 was inflated for her trip across the Atlantic, officers here were intensely interested in her handling. "Judge," Frat Mascot, Dead; College Mourns

ADA—(Special) — "Judge" is dead.

After avoiding fast-moving autos and express trains for 15 years, a slow-moving freight ended "Judge's" earthly career.

"Judge" was mascot for Delta Theta Phi, law fraternity at Ohio Northern. But he was more than that. He was a landmark in this town. Every student who has been here in the last 15 years remembered him. He accompanied Adam Binkley, one of the town's mail carriers, on his route every day, making sure that all of "Judge's" student friends got their love letters on time.

Binkley will be lonesome on the mail route now. Law classes never again will be disturbed by the dignified old colossus entering the rooms to digest lectures on torts, personal relations and other subjects.

NURSE HURT IN ACCIDENT

Auto Drivers Blinded by Bright Head Lights

One person was painfully injured and three others narrowly escaped serious injury Monday at 5 p. m., in an automobile accident in the Bellefontaine rd., five miles east of Lima.

Miss Lena Whitman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Whitman, 316 Woodlawn-av., is in City hospital suffering from a fractured jaw and severe cuts and bruises about the head. Miss Lucille Bracken, Denver, Colo., sustained injuries to her foot and George Whipple, residing at the Lima House, was slightly cut and bruised.

John J. Becker, Jr., of Harold, driver of the car in which Miss Whitman was riding, was uninjured.

Miss Whitman, who is employed as nurse to Becker's father, and young Becker had driven to Lima for medicine and were returning to Harold when the accident occurred.

According to information, Becker attempted to pass a wagon. At the same time, the other auto, going in the opposite direction, started around the wagon and Becker was blinded by the bright lights. The two cars collided head-on and overturned.

Williams & Davis ambulance removed the injured to City hospital. Miss Bracken and Whipple were able to leave after their injuries had been dressed.

London Sets Pick up American Programs

NEW YORK — (By Associated Press) — Numerous amateurs in the eastern states today reported having heard the radio programs which were broadcast from Europe last night in the international broadcasting tests. London, Paris, Rome and Brussels were reported heard. Reception was not perfect and in many cases the listeners were unable to identify the confidential stations in accordance with the schedule which had earlier been arranged. The efforts to send American programs to Europe apparently were less successful, altho full reports had not been received here today.

NEWSPAPER'S TRIAL SET FOR DECEMBER 9

BALTIMORE, Md. — The Baltimore Post will go on trial December 9, for publishing income tax payments.

The date was tentatively fixed at a conference between U. S. Attorney Woodcock and Judge Frank E. Stevens and Paul Patterson of Cleveland, representative of the Post.

Newton D. Baker, former secretary of war and one of the Post's counsel will participate in the trial here, as will Thomas L. Siddo, comptroller and general counsel for the Scripps-Howard newspapers.

FORTY CHARGES FOR KORETZ

State and City Both Claim Alleged Swindler

CHICAGO — (By United Press) — Both the state and federal governments claimed the right today to be the first to prosecute Leo Koretz, alleged confidence man and engineer of gigantic swindles.

State's attorney Robert Crowe went ahead with plans to place Koretz on trial immediately after he is returned to Chicago from Halifax, N. S., where he was arrested. Crowe claims he can prosecute him on 40 charges.

Assistant U. S. District Attorney Cotter meantime made plans to have Koretz served with a warrant charging use of the mails to defraud, immediately upon his arrival in Chicago. The indictment was voted nearly a year ago.

Assistant State's Attorney John Shabbaro, who is in Halifax seeking Koretz's extradition, or Koretz is being delayed by a technicality in the Canadian code, he informed Crowe. He hopes to have this brushed aside, however, he said, and start back with the notorious swindler within a few days.

Koretz disappeared last December after prosecutors received scores of complaints from people who said they were victimized by his far-flung imagination. The complaints brought to prosecutors then indicated Koretz's activities had netted him $2,000,000.

LOADINGS JUMP

All Commodities Show Increase in Shipments

WASHINGTON — (By Associated Press) — Railroad freight loadings took another upward jump during the week ending Nov. 15, a report today by the car service division of the American Railway association showing the volume continues to be the highest on record for this season of the year.

The total of 1,915,504 carloads loaded with revenue freight during the week was an increase of 21,200 cars over the preceding week when loadings were reduced owing to election day. The total was 23,654 cars, more than for the corresponding week last year and 58,149 more than for that week in 1922.

All commodities and classifications shared in the increase over the preceding week with the exception of ore, which showed a seasonal decrease, and miscellaneous freight.

Increases in the total loadings of all commodities over the preceding week were reported in all districts except the northwestern and southwestern districts, which showed increases over the corresponding week last year.

DEMANDS TO BE HEAVY

Question Arises in Annexation of Baxter Allotment

Financial retrenchment policy in the issuance of bonds against the city was advocated Monday night by City Commissioner Earl Rohn as the first move toward providing future operating funds and to reduce the municipal indebtedness.

Rohn proposes that the city cease issuing bonds until the municipality catch up with the actual growth and development, claiming that at present the sinking fund eats up the majority of the money received from taxation and allows no funds for the operation of the city.

"We must enforce the most rigid economy if we want to get the city out of a financial rut," Rohn said. "I believe that we shouldn't issue a dollars worth of bonds unless it is absolutely necessary."

"We have several millions of dollars worth of bonds outstanding and the tentative programs already approved provide for bond issues of a similar figure. We must look to the future and provide funds to operate the city."

MONEY NEEDED
The estimated sewage disposal system estimated at cost approximately $3,000,000, for which bonds have already been floated, is incomplete in that it requires a filtration and disposal plants which will cost between $500,000 and $1,000,000.

This project has been demanded by the state board of health and must be started upon the completion of the sewer system. Several suits of which are incomplete, including the European district and St. John's-av relief system in addition to a district relief sewer in the Rosedale-av and Kenilworth-av district and in the Baxter addition to the city.

Besides the million or so of bonds for sewage disposal, the city must consider a garbage disposal plant at a cost of several hundreds of thousands and the erection of a $600,000 hospital, which institution upon completion would require an operating fund of approximately $30,000 annually while interest on outstanding bonds for the one issue would amount to that figure.

"We must take the bull by the horns," Rohn said, "and practice economy if we want to keep our heads above water in taking this island, or against any certain project, but I believe we must cease issuing bonds and now is the time."

NEW ADDITION
Rohn's plea for economy culminated in the annexation by the city of Baxter addition on the St. John's-av west of what was formerly the corporation line. The new addition comprises hundreds of building lots and calls for an improvement program of sewer and water service connecting with the city systems.

Opposition to the annexation was voiced by Commissioner Rohn and Rankin on the grounds that the city would be compelled to install a trunk line sewer in that district, which would necessitate an additional bond issue.

City Manager C. A. Bingham explained that the Baxter addition had been released from the county sewer district in charge of Engineer J. B. Myers and that no improvement in the Baxter addition would be completed until after the Parkside, St. John's-av and Rosedale sewers had been installed. This agreement, Bingham said, was understood by the city and was a condition of the annexation on that basis.

After considerable discussion in which commissioners satisfied themselves that the plans and specifications for Baxter addition conformed with specifications demanded by Fuller and McClintock, advisory engineers of the city, the annexation was approved, providing the city with an additional average on which to collect taxes.

Y. W. LUNCHEON
All charter members of the Y. W. C. A. were invited to be present for the tea and consultation to be held at the rooms Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. C. A. Baker will have charge and an interesting program will be staged.

Here's Christmas Suggestion

With the approach of the Christmas season everyone in the downtown district of Lima will be doing more or less to add to the Yuletide spirit. In this connection, the editor of The Lima News received a suggestion from a reader Tuesday that may have merit. It is being presented to readers of this newspaper for their consideration.

It was suggested that rows of evergreen trees be placed in sockets provided for flags in front of business houses shortly before Christmas, the trees to be provided by the various business houses. It was suggested that the trees would need only a small amount of tinsel trimming which would make a wonderful showing under the boulevard lighting system.

The Lima News would appreciate opinions on this suggestion. If feasible, it might be worked into a novel Christmas scheme that would be entirely different.

WHEATLEY GIVES IMPRESSIONS

England's Unemployment Is Acute, Lima Broker Reports

FRANCE HAS REVIVAL

Four of Europe Shows Conditions Improving

With exception of England conditions in Western Europe are on the upgrade, was the impression formed by A. W. Wheatley, president of the Wheatley Co. investment brokers, after several months spent in travel in the British Isles, France, Germany and Italy.

England, he said, is in a bad way with a million and a quarter men out of work. Unemployment does not pay the government. Wheatley said, do not tend to promote industry. Men who are working are only doing 50 percent of a day's work.

Immigration to the colonies and the breaking up of the huge estates in England would in a measure alleviate conditions, Wheatley said, particularly the latter expediency.

There is too much idle land in the country, and too much ground devoted to sheep raising.

"I would put every head of sheep out of England," Wheatley declared, "and put the land into cultivation."

FOOD COSTS

"England is now paying $50,000,000 a week for imported foods," he added.

"The Labor government, which was recently voted out, was tried and found wanting. It may be a long time before the nation attempts a similar experiment."

Conservative element is in the saddle for five years.

"In Germany the Wawen plan is getting in operation and is stabilizing conditions. Germany is awakening to pre-war activities."

"After people," Wheatley observed, "chiefly desire a stable government. Whether it is a monarchy, republic or what, all they ask is that it be permanent."

"France has wrought wonders in rehabilitation. Her people are busy, but the nation is deep in debt. Italy is also now stricken, but the wheels of industry are turning full speed," he concluded.

Attitude of Europeans toward Americans, so far as observed, Wheatley said, is very friendly.

FARM CENSUS IS STARTED

Federal Supervision Arrives to Oversee Work

An agricultural census of Allen county, which is a part of the nation wide survey to be taken by the Department of Commerce, covering the crop year of 1924, will commence Dec. 1, Charles W. C. Brett, supervisor for the first district of Ohio announced Tuesday.

Brett has established headquarters in the court house and will direct the enumeration in 16 counties. The district includes Allen, Auglaize, Defiance, Fulton, Hancock, Hardin, Henry, Logan, Lucas, Mercer, Paulding, Putnam, Shelby, Van Wert, Williams and Wood-co.

One hundred and eight enumerators are to be appointed to carry on the work. Allen county will have six enumerators. The appointments have not been made.

Enumeration blanks have been distributed to farmers by rural mail carriers. The enumerators will follow up by visiting each farm and collecting the blanks. Assistance will also be given farmers in making the report.

Guy E. Perky of Perry, Pa., has been appointed assistant supervisor for Allen county.

This Is Once That Wishing Is Rewarded

"I wish that..."

Just how many times have you heard that expression and how often have you used it yourself? Well, here is a chance for you to do your wishing on paper and while your wish will probably not come true you will at least have the pleasure of expressing it and also getting in the competition for a pair of tickets for the Douglas Fairbanks picture, "The Thief of Bagdad," which comes to the Euclid Opera house on Sunday, Nov. 20, for four days, bringing its symphony orchestra and other strange features.

The magic carpet, which whisks its passengers to any place they wish, the enchanted crystal in which the possessor can see anything going on in the world when he expresses the wish, the wonderful Chest of Nazir, in which the marvelous good which, sprinkled on the ground while a wish is being expressed, brings the holder a beautiful steed, rich garments and an army of fighting men, all these things shown in "The Thief of Bagdad" furnish inspiration for the contest.

All you need to participate in the contest is to jot down your three wishes in a letter of not more than 100 words. They may be wild or sensible. Mail the letter immediately in the Contest folder, to the Lima News. The contest ends on Thursday at 4 p. m., so you run the time for entering your letter is growing very short.

If you care to write a letter accompanying your wishes, that will be entered also, but keep it under 100 words.

The names of the winners will be published in Friday's Lima News and the tickets sent to them at once, so they may have an opportunity of seeing the great Fairbanks picture early in the week.

COAL DEALERS PROTEST

License Law Enactment Is Sought in Lima

Movement for the enactment of a coal dealer's license law to protect legitimate dealers in Lima was inaugurated here Monday afternoon at a meeting of Lima Coal Dealers' association members with City Manager C. A. Blighman.

Members in the association declare their business is threatened every winter by the invasion of "snow dealers," persons who sell coal on railroad sidings during the winter months only.

In their conference with Manager Blighman the dealers claim that last winter there were at least 25 coal dealers in Lima while during the summer months there were only 14 legitimate dealers, or the dealers who conduct business throughout the entire year.

Coal dealers believe with the enactment by city commission of a license law governing sale of coal in the city that they will be protected against "snow birds" in the winter time.

CULPRIT SOUGHT IN MYSTERY

some one who sought to cover up her act, Prosecutor King today centered his investigation upon these theories.

Minute search of the Sheatsley home by investigators yesterday brought forth what King termed as "important discoveries" tending to show, he said, that the pastor's wife was a victim of murder.

Brownish crimson stains, which chemical analysis may prove human blood, King said, were found on a number of articles, including a table covering, unearthed in a crumpled condition in an upstairs closet, on a pair of blue trousers on a rug, on a burial sack found in a vacant lot about 100 feet from the house and on the asbestos covering of a heat conduit directly above the furnace door.

JAR OF FLUID

Another find which officials said they consider significant was an upturned fruit jar containing about half an ounce of crimson fluid, which Chemist C. E. Long said closely resembles human blood. The lid was found in the fruit storage room adjacent to the furnace room. Bits of tissue, such as might have been scraped from the body of a human, were found in several places.

Red gummy prints on a clothes chute door in the cellar were found by Detective Harry Carson.

The Rev. Mr. Sheatsley, who with his four children is at Paris, Ohio, visiting relatives, in a telephone conversation said the stains were "probably rabbit blood," he having shot several while hunting on Saturday before the tragedy.

The minister when informed that a bottle of poisonous acid, which authorities said was missing on the night of the tragedy from the medicine cabinet, had been found in the cabinet yesterday, said he was glad that it had been located.

CLINGS TO SUICIDE

The Rev. Mr. Sheatsley believes his wife committed suicide by casting herself into the furnace, after becoming violently insane, according to a statement he made to Mr. King last Wednesday.

Chemist Long seeking to verify his conclusion that Mrs. Sheatsley died when her body was placed in the furnace, yesterday placed two guinea pigs on hot coals in the furnace. They scalded over the coals for a minute and a half and then succumbed. Death was caused by carbon monoxide fumes, Long said he believed. He will analyze blood taken from their lungs in an effort to determine this positively.

His report to Prosecutor King on blood taken from the lungs of Mrs. Sheatsley said that there was no trace of carbon monoxide poisoning.

SON TALKS

CANTON, O. — (By United Press) — Declaring that he was tired of reading in the papers of his reluctance to talk, Clarence Sheatsley, 16, son of Mrs. Addie Sheatsley, Columbus furnace victim, in an interview with the United Press discussed freely the finding of his mother's body in the Lutheran parsonage furnace.

"When I entered the cellar," Clarence said, "I saw ashes strewn about the floor and I just cleaned them up. The furnace was smoking furiously and I opened the door a little bit to see what was wrong."

"I saw a dark form. I thought it might be mother and I closed the door and went up stairs. I didn't want to believe it was mother, but I was afraid it was."

"After lying on the bed in my room a while I went out and joined some of the boys on the football field. It made me sick to think of what I had seen and I tried to forget."

"When I came home at 5:30 Saturday met me at the door and said, 'Oh, Bud, something terrible has happened. Mother has got into the furnace.'"

"That is all I know about it. I want the papers to stop saying that I won't talk."

"FIRE BUG" CASE AIRED HERE

C. J. Hunt Arrested in Blaze Four Years Ago

Charles J. Hunt, of North Kingsville, formerly of 929 W. North-st., was brought to Lima from North Kingsville early Tuesday morning and was arraigned in criminal court charged with arson for deliberately setting fire to a building to collect the insurance.

Hunt entered a plea of not guilty and is arraigned to furnish bond in the sum of $3,000 to insure his appearance in court on the 2 at 2 p. m., when his case will be heard.

Hunt is alleged to have set fire to a frame building in the rear of the W. North-st. address four years ago. It is claimed that following the destruction of the building he collected $300 on a $1,500 fire insurance policy.

Business of the Hunt Trouble Light Co., of which a number of Lima men were stockholders, was carried on in the building which was completely destroyed by the fire.

POISON VICTIM IS BURIED

Funeral services for Leslie Ward, 69, father of Mrs. George Bible, 970 W. High-st., whose lifeless body was found Saturday in Cleveland, were held Tuesday at 2 p. m. at the Bible residence.

Rev. L. D. Hammond officiated. Interment was made in Ward cemetery.

According to a verdict of the Cuyahoga-on coroner, Ward died from alcoholic poisoning and was not murdered as was reported Monday.

Ward went to Cleveland 22 years ago where he was engaged as a teamster. He left his home there November 9 and after an absence of almost two weeks, relatives enlisted the aid of police. His body was found early Saturday morning at the rear of a barn at the outskirts of the city.

A dozen cash and business on the head led to the theory that he had been murdered.

Besides Mrs. Bible, he leaves three other daughters, Mrs. W. H. Lucas, of Lima; Mrs. Arthur Emmond, Cleveland and Mrs. J. M. Miller, Bath, Pa.

GOOD NEWS THAT MAKES KIDS HAPPY

Castor Oil Comes in Delightful Chocolate Candies Now and You Can't Taste the Oil

This is one of the big discoveries of recent years—pure castor oil—the oil itself—is mixed in a high-grade chocolate confection in such a clever way that no one can taste or smell the oil.

These delightful candies are known to all druggists as Kastor Jems and they surely are sweeping the country by storm.

One Kastor Jem is the proper dose for a child—while adults and two just right.

You'll be astonished at the good results of Kastor Jems—one large package, which costs but 50 cents will prove to you that nasty, vile smelling and tasting castor oil need have no further place in your home.

Think of the little ones—why terribly them with the castor oil bottle when you can delight them with a Kastor Jem and the result is the same. Get a box today. Hunter's drug stores, or Green's Public drug store can supply you, adv.

seemed unusually graceful and docile to her handlers.

She was "walked out" of the hangar in about 45 minutes, a shorter time than ever was needed for the Shenandoah, and floated lightly, apparently amply supported by the helium, whose lifting power is not considered as great as that of hydrogen.

With the rising of the sun, the heat expanded the gas and she became even more responsive to the breeze. The ground crew, most of whom had handled the Shenandoah dozens of times, however, had little difficulty in controlling her movements.

EASY TAKE OFF

Altho the Zit-3 has been equipped with a nose cap, fitting her mooring to the steel mast here it was decided not to use the apparatus this morning in order to prevent delay.

The big craft made an easy take off with four of her five motors whirling as she headed into a 25-mile southwest wind. The fifth was set going as the ship rose and soon the ZR-3 was sliding away into the haze of the southwest.

Commander Klein's parting word was that he would hustle along to his destination, hoping to arrive there in time to loaf around over Washington before the christening ceremonies. He expects to return here by nine o'clock tonight.

CHRISTENING AT CAPITAL

WASHINGTON—(By Associated Press)—Boiling Field lay in trim dress today for the christening there by Mrs. Coolidge of the giant German built dirigible ZR-3 as the Los Angeles.

The air field had been put in readiness for a capacity throng to witness the gala scene of christening of the great air liner whose future of peaceful pursuit is symbolized in the flight of snow-white pigeons to be released by the first lady of the land as she formally proclaims the ship in her new name. Sparkling toy balloons whose strings will slip from the fingers of the sponsor at the same moment also carried a flavor of the ship's exclusion by prior agreement from the ways of warfare.

As Washington scanned the northern horizon for the coming of the big ship from her Lakehurst hangar, last minute arrangements for her reception were made at the air field. The ceremony was scheduled for three o'clock with plans calling for the immediate return of the ship to Lakehurst. A crew of 300 men from the navy yard here and the air station were ready to give a hand in hauling the big ship to earth.

BLASCO BOOK IS LITTLE FEARED

Predicted Desired Revolutionary Results Will Fail

BORES SPANISH PEOPLE

Writer's Reputation Abroad Different at Home

PARIS — (Special) — Vicente Blasco Ibañez has been roaming around Paris for several weeks shaking his head ominously when asked: "What about your Spanish revolution?" and answering cryptically: "Wait and see. My book will be out soon. Then you will see."

Everybody waited impatiently persuaded that "Blasco, he eats 'em alive."

The book finally appeared this week, carrying mention that two million copies had been printed in Spanish for distribution in Spain. "We have our secret means of getting them over the border," says the mysterious Blasco—and English editions had been published simultaneously in New York and London.

The writer is not aware whether the New York edition will have as much trouble getting circulated as the Spanish, but for the benefit of those Americans who may have been unable thus far to get a copy, he will say that it is about as thrilling a revolutionary manifesto as Aunt Bessie's Bed Time talks with Tot.

EXALTS HIMSELF

Blasco "reveals" that Don Alfonso "who carries on so," sometimes summers at Deauville and that Spanish troops have suffered heavy losses recently in Morocco, and he relates at great length the old gossip about Dictator Primo's private life. He proves conclusively that there are scarcely any intelligent people in Spain except himself and Professor Miguel Casimiro, both of whom, moreover, now are exiled in Paris and aspiring to be the Victor Hugos of a tremendous republican revolution.

But one cannot help reading between the lines that what really rankles in Blasco's ardent revolutionary breast is that fact that although abroad he is hailed as Spain's foremost writer, his reputation in his own country has not kept pace. You might compare him with Upton Sinclair, who, though glorified by exile, has a tremendous following abroad.

One can imagine Sinclair—if ever fortune decrees exile for him—writing a fulminating indictment of the then President and Secretary of State and publishing it simultaneously in eight or nine languages, including the Scandinavian. But one cannot imagine an indignant American public secretly passing copies from hand to hand until the country rose up as a single man and swept the malefactors from power.

Nor can one imagine Blasco's blast having a similar effect in Spain. The writer has travelled that jovous country both before and since, and he always observed that one thing which made the Spaniards so happy was that they did not care a rap about politics. If they heard that Alfonso was at

PILOT

Lieutenant Harold R. Harris, chief pilot of McCook Field, Dayton, Ohio, will be in the cockpit of the Berliner helicopter this country is entering in the tests at Farnborough, Eng., next spring.

Deauville with other "Dough-Villains," playing baccarat, drinking champagne and dangle dainty damsels on his knee, they most often said: "Lucky dog," for these are pastimes dear to every true Spanish heart, and the King who did not indulge in them would be regarded as a suspect.

BOOK WOULD HELP

If Primo and Alfonso had sufficient intelligence they would distribute Blasco's book gratis thru Spain, perfectly secure in the knowledge that the Spaniards would be too bored to read it. And even if they did read it they would scarcely be allured by the author's rhapsodical picture of the republic which he prophesies will soon exist and under which Spain will be so well and so modernly governed that no real Spaniard could possibly live there.

Of course Barcelona wants revolution, or rather separation. But Barcelonians are not Spaniards but Catalonians. They are nice, clean, bright, modern, up-and-coming people and they are liars.

Water Route Takes Wheat

KANSAS CITY — (By United Press) — This inland city for the first time in history recently established connection with the Gulf of Mexico.

Five hundred thousand bushels of Kansas wheat shipped thru Kansas City floated from St. Louis, Mo., out to sea and to European markets with a saving over rail transportation of 2 cents a bushel, or $10,000.

The barge line which moved the wheat soon will extend its service direct to Kansas City via the Missouri river.

The wheat was loaded in St. Louis from freight cars and ten days later it was in storage elevators at New Orleans.

The second shipment totals 700,000 bushels and is soon to get under way, bringing the total bushels of wheat transported down the river to 1,200,000 bushels, and representing a saving in transportation of $24,000 to the shipper.

BOMBING CAUSES SENSATION

Serious Situation Follows Lee Stack Assassination

POLITICS ARE SCENTED

Interest Centers in Huge Blackmail Plot

Less than a month in office, the Baldwin government is faced with the notorious problem of reversing Great Britain's Egyptian policy. The British people have been profoundly stirred by the assassination of Major General Stack in Cairo and A. G. Gardiner says in his dispatch today that the government may be forced to take action.

LONDON (Special) — A profound sensation was created in all circles by the assassination of Major General Stack, governor-general of Sudan and Sirdar of the Egyptian army. The Stack was a man of the highest character and was universally popular. He had arranged to leave Cairo for the Sudan on the day previous to the murder, but by delay he was kept in Cairo in order to attend a complimentary dinner to the Hon. Herbert H. Asquith, who is on a visit to Egypt and the Sudan. After the dinner, he was brought to the house where Asquith was dining and there he died.

As a result of the tragedy, the new British government is confronted with a most serious situation. It is impossible to dissociate the event from political propaganda and the fact that Zaghoul Pasha has made the Siridar a special object of criticism greatly complicates the British position.

The Egyptian premier immediately made a demonstration of horror and indignation at the crime, but all the criminals escaped and the problem for the government is what measure to take to assert its authority. Much pressure is being exerted on the government to induce it to retract its steps in surrendering the government of Egypt. That policy was carried thru in the face of great opposition and unhappily has been attended by the most unsatisfactory results.

The great scheme of reforms which the Earl of Cromer had accomplished in Egypt is fast falling into decay owing to the corrupt and inefficient native administration. But the most serious fact is the rapid decline which is taking place in the cotton growing industry of the Nile, which, next to the financial reforms, was the most conspicuous achievement of the Cromer regime.

But the relapse of the country into its former condition was not unexpected. What has created concern is the extravagant claims put forward especially in regard to the restoration of the Sudan to Egypt. No British government could yield in this vital matter. Egypt has no historic claim to the Sudan. Its attempt to rule that country is one of the most ghastly stories on record.

PEOPLE BECOMING. The English rule has brought security and prosperity to the country and the Sudanese people would not tolerate a return to the Egyptians for whom they have the utmost hatred and contempt. The Sudan, in the last generation, has become a tired and stagnant, unproductive and Mandsin is practically extinct. Whatever religious fanaticism remains does not turn to Egypt for support and the whole country would resist being handed over to the rule which it loathes.

Zaghoul Pasha knows this but the nationalist movement, incited by the withdrawal of the British from Egypt, has committed him to a claim in regard to the Sudan which is neither just nor practicable.

The murder of the Siridar brings the matter to a crisis and the government may be compelled to take drastic steps to protect the security of its administration in the Sudan. Egypt's right to misgovern itself has been conceded, but Egypt's right to misgovern its neighbor will not be conceded. And if Egypt cannot control its assassins they will be controlled in other ways.

The danger is that the crime in Cairo will arouse such feeling that the government will be tempted to delay if not to reverse its policy of withdrawal.

BLACKMAIL PLOT. Public interest is centered in the astonishing conspiracy being disclosed in the law courts in which an unnamed eastern prince, while on a visit to London, fell under the snare of a woman and became the victim of a colossal blackmail plot. The prince's aide de camp is in the conspiracy and the prince, to escape publicity, paid 150,000 pounds sterling, which was divided among the gang of rascals. Now the husband of the woman is claiming the whole sum from the bank on the ground that the money was taken out in respect of a forged check. The bank's defense is that the secrecy preserved in regard to the identity of the prince adds flavor to the sensation. The judge explains that the name is not disclosed owing to serious considerations of public policy. And the public is asking whether this fact will prevent the prosecution of the rascals for their criminal offense.

As the soil nourishes the tree roots, the gums nourish the teeth. And as the tree decays if you bare the roots, so do the teeth decay when gum shrinkage starts in.

This condition—one of the first stages of Pyorrhea—is very common and something that ordinary tooth pastes are powerless to prevent. If not checked promptly it will lead to loss of teeth and serious organic diseases.

If used in time and used consistently twice daily, Forhan's will prevent Pyorrhea or check its progress. It will preserve the gums in their pink, normal, healthy condition, safeguard your health and keep your mouth clean, fresh and wholesome.

HAD PAINS ALL OVER BODY

For five years I had been suffering from a terrible case of rheumatism and kidney trouble and got so bad on with pains all over my body and was so sore and stiff that I could not bend over to unlace my shoes and could hardly get up and down the stairs. But I want to say that your Plant Juice medicine has given me such complete relief from this suffering that I can almost run up and down the stairs now.

The above remarkable statement about this surprising new Plant Juice medicine was made to the Plant Juice Man recently by Mr. August Sauter, a well known Toledo, Ohio, citizen, living at 1702 Grant Street, that city.

"The rheumatic pains came all over my body," Mr. Sauter continued, "and I felt stiff and sore all over because of my kidneys. At night I could hardly stand up to take off my clothing and I would actually fall over sometimes. I had to get up three or four times during the night because of my kidneys and this broke up my rest so that I felt completely tired out. My feet often became swollen."

"I read what Plant Juice was doing for so many others and I started taking this medicine and now I can truthfully say that Plant Juice has done for me what everything else failed to do. The rheumatism has disappeared almost entirely. My kidneys are improved; the pain and swelling has left my feet; I sleep better and get up mornings feeling rested and do not have headaches as I did before. I give Plant Juice full credit for the big change in me and gladly endorse it as a great medicine."

As the soil nourishes the tree roots, the gums nourish the teeth. And as the tree decays if you bare the roots, so do the teeth decay when gum shrinkage starts in.

This condition—one of the first stages of Pyorrhea—is very common and something that ordinary tooth pastes are powerless to prevent. If not checked promptly it will lead to loss of teeth and serious organic diseases.

If used in time and used consistently twice daily, Forhan's will prevent Pyorrhea or check its progress. It will preserve the gums in their pink, normal, healthy condition, safeguard your health and keep your mouth clean, fresh and wholesome.

Forhan's is more than a tooth paste; it checks Pyorrhea. Thousands have found it beneficial for years. For your own sake ask for and get Forhan's For the Gums. At all druggists, 35c and 60c in tubes.

FREIBURG — Racy topics do not always furnish the year's best sellers in German literature. Last year's selling record was held by Bishop Kasper's religious book, "Mein Glaube" (My Faith), which scored 175,000 copies on the first edition. The demand was so large that translations were made into Bohemian, Danish, Norwegian, English, Flemish, French, Italian, Dutch, Portuguese, Swedish, Spanish and Hungarian.

HAD PAINS ALL OVER BODY

For five years I had been suffering from a terrible case of rheumatism and kidney trouble and got so bad on with pains all over my body and was so sore and stiff that I could not bend over to unlace my shoes and could hardly get up and down the stairs. But I want to say that your Plant Juice medicine has given me such complete relief from this suffering that I can almost run up and down the stairs now.

The above remarkable statement about this surprising new Plant Juice medicine was made to the Plant Juice Man recently by Mr. August Sauter, a well known Toledo, Ohio, citizen, living at 1702 Grant Street, that city.

"The rheumatic pains came all over my body," Mr. Sauter continued, "and I felt stiff and sore all over because of my kidneys. At night I could hardly stand up to take off my clothing and I would actually fall over sometimes. I had to get up three or four times during the night because of my kidneys and this broke up my rest so that I felt completely tired out. My feet often became swollen."

"I read what Plant Juice was doing for so many others and I started taking this medicine and now I can truthfully say that Plant Juice has done for me what everything else failed to do. The rheumatism has disappeared almost entirely. My kidneys are improved; the pain and swelling has left my feet; I sleep better and get up mornings feeling rested and do not have headaches as I did before. I give Plant Juice full credit for the big change in me and gladly endorse it as a great medicine."

RABBIT SHOW IS OPENED HERE

Second Largest Exhibit of World Shown in Lima

Nearly 250 exhibitors are represented in the display of the National Convention Rabbit Show, now being held in the Hotel Norval.

The exhibit has been arranged and the convention is to be held under the auspices of the Lima Rabbit Breeders' Association.

More than 1,000 rabbits of all kinds and descriptions are on display at the exhibit, which also represents the Ohio Challenge Rabbit Show, according to officials of the local breeders' club.

PUBLIC MUSEUM REVISED

Delphos Collection Being Cataloged by One of Founders

DELPHOS — J. H. Wahmhoff, one of the founders of the Delphos Public Library museum is now creating a classified list of the articles, histories, aged pictures, and implements preparatory to the grand opening to local students and general public at the library in the near future.

This unique collection vividly shows the evolution of the industrial world, methods used in the great wars, scientific practice, geological survey, newspaper world and hundreds of other valuable and instructive works that only a systematic and complete collection such as this can show.

LIPPINCOTT NOMINATED AS KIWANIS PRESIDENT

Eugene Lippincott, prosecuting attorney of Allen-co, and E. A. Siferd, local business man, were nominated for president of the Lima Kiwanis club at the club's weekly luncheon Tuesday noon at Barr hotel.

A RELIABLE COUGH REMEDY

Why experiment with unknown remedies for that cough or cold when you can secure FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR COMPOUND? It is a safe and reliable remedy for the relief of coughs, colds, hoarseness. Equally beneficial for young and old. Mrs. Anna Cornell, Bridgeton, N. J. states: "I bought FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR COMPOUND for my cold and find it greatest. Insist upon the genuine. Refuse substitutes."

This Nurse Just Couldn't Stop Coughing

Specialists Didn't Help

It takes more than ordinary sweet, syrup cough mixtures to stop a stubborn cough that persists in hanging on.

For slight ordinary coughs almost any decent cough syrup will do, but if you have one of those tough ones that won't yield to common remedies and often keeps you awake at night then your one best bet is Bronchiline Emulsion.

Often one half bottle forces the most stubborn cough to yield and you are better almost before you know it.

There is no sugar, chloroform or dope in Bronchiline Emulsion; it's a wonderful medicine for people who are getting over a heavy cold or an attack of flu.

A New York nurse just couldn't stop coughing even after consulting specialists yet one half bottle of Bronchiline Emulsion did stop it—completely.

Ask Green's Public drug store or any good dealer for a bottle—often three or four doses will stop an ordinary cough.

CREAM CLEARS A STUFFED-UP HEAD

If your nostrils are clogged and your head is stuffed because of nasty catarrh or a cold, apply a little pure, antiseptic cream into your nostrils. It penetrates through every air passage, soothing and healing swollen, inflamed membranes and you get instant relief.

Get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm at any drug store. Your clogged nostrils open right up, your head is clear, no more yawning or snuffling. Count on it. All the stuffiness, dryness, straining for breath is gone. You feel fine.

Don't Let High Blood Pressure Shorten Your Life

How To Stop It—Read This

It may surprise you to know that high blood pressure is so serious that insurance companies refuse to issue policies to those who have it. All because it shortens life.

High blood pressure gives little warning and until certain symptoms take hold, you do not know it. They are head pains, flushed face, hot flashes, dizzy spells, shortness of breath, sleeplessness, and nervousness.

Only a purely vegetable medicine like Norma that drives out the waste matter which clogs the system and works the heart to do extra work can reduce high blood pressure. Often one bottle of Norma will bring reaction enough to stop the symptoms which distress and worry you.

Norma is a physician's prescription. It works so wonderfully in his personal practice that he has now been persuaded to obtain it. Check the genuineness of high blood pressure by taking it with Norma.

Money Is Needed

Seriousness of the delay in getting the revaluation of property before the people of Lima is beginning to be apparent. The Lima News repeatedly has called attention to the middle that would certainly result unless ample time is provided for the various departments to handle the routine work to be done before the public actually begins paying in the December assessments.

It now appears certain that the city and schools will be hard pressed before they can get an advance draw if the natural course is followed by county officials in holding hearings before taxes are collected. Collections before the public has had its legal right of hearings will result in further complications and if resorted to, everyone who pays taxes should not fail to indicate clearly that such is being done under protest. This should be indicated on checks and the collecting officer should so mark receipts.

While it is too late now to adopt the plan, we believe better results would have been possible if the county auditor had divided the city into districts, cleaned up the revaluation one district at a time, sent out notices of values placed on property and started hearings. These could have been under way while others were being prepared and much time saved. Under the plan being used some 14,000 notices will be dumped into the mails simultaneously and the law provides that each owner may have a hearing if he so desires. The amount of time that will be required for such hearings, if a large percentage demand them, is apparent. At this late date, the best that can be done is utilization of all possible speed in getting the revaluation out of the way. The city and schools must have money for operation and officials should make every effort to provide means of furnishing it.

Jackie's Salary

Jackie Coogan is earning more than half a million dollars a year, it's claimed. Yet his parents are only paying him $18 a week. He says, "As I get older, I will be advanced."

The idea, of course, is to make him appreciate money.

It should keep him from becoming "spoiled." Many parents would think $18 a week is too much for a lad of his age. His vast earning power and the luxury in which he lives must be taken into consideration. Everything is relative, and $18 isn't any more to Jackie than 50 cents to the average lad. Jackie returned from Europe recently with 27 trunks.

He talked with the reporters sensibly, intelligently.

The children of our generation do not have enough respect for money. The man who in boyhood thought a penny was as big as a house now has a son who is insulted at an offer of less than a quarter.

Maybe this is the root of what's wrong with modern youth in so many cases.

A child who isn't taught the "value of money" will go out into the world under a great handicap. It's worth the cost of a trip to New York just to take the children to the top of the Woolworth building and impress on them that this magnificent structure was the creation of a proper appreciation of the power of nickels and dimes. Transactions are in dollars, profits in cents.

Jackie Coogan is said to have to "work" for all the money he gets to spend. Whenever he figures out an idea for putting more snap into his movies, he gets a bonus of 75 cents. For a new gag he is given half a dollar.

Here, again, is wisdom. It keeps Jackie on the alert; stimulates his mind. He is absorbing the wholesome policy of furnishing service for every reward.

We know a shrewd father who has never given his son anything without making him earn it. If the boy wants even a penny he must perform a service even tho it be no more than emptying a wastebasket for his mother. A trip to a movie must be earned by doing a chore, by keeping his belongings in order for a given period, or by being prompt at meals.

Honesty is in actually earning everything we get. And parents cannot begin too early to get this idea into youthful brains.

Renaming Rainier

Residents of the west and northwest are working diligently on a proposition which they hope will lead to the renaming of Mt. Rainier, the new name to be Mt. Tacoma, in honor of the American Indian who had so named this majestic peak, the highest in American soil.

Considerable attention is being given the fact that the mountain was christened by a British sea captain in honor of an admiral, Rainier, whose only connection with affairs on this side is the fact that he fought against America in the Revolutionary war. It has been established that he never was within 3,000 miles of the mountain and that he was so inconspicuous in the history of his own country that his name does not appear in any recognized English history and not in the Encyclopedia Britannica.

This should have considerable weight with Congress when that body is called upon to consider a resolution that will permit the mountain that was "god" to the Indian long before the coming of the white man to be renamed Tacoma.

There has been a general tendency along this line thruout our country. The names and traditions of the Indian have been perpetuated in many ways and in this connection Allen and surrounding counties have been generous. Ohio abounds in Indian names that will forever perpetuate the memory of the vanquished and all but extinct race that formerly roamed this great continent.

It is only fair that some recognition be given the people from whom many still contend the country was stolen. Without going into this phase of the question, we sincerely hope that those sponsoring the movement to change the name of our most inspiring mountain will meet with success.

Deadly Gas

A deadly poison is carbon-monoxide, generated by the explosion of gasoline and thrown off in the motor-car exhaust. If you run your auto engine several minutes in a garage with closed doors, you endanger your life. Thousands die this way every year.

Emil Chalupa, New Yorker, claims he has a chemical process that eliminates this poison gas from exhaust. He demonstrates to physicians, remaining 15 minutes in a closed garage with his motor running without injury.

A woman in hand is worth two in a tantrum.

LIMA NEWS HEALTH SERVICE

—By DR. WILLIAM BRADY—

THE PROGRESS OF EDUCATION

Here is a letter which I crave permission to print. It ought to interest every mother, grandmother, father or grandfather who may be concerned with or responsible for the education of a girl. It illustrates fairly well, I think, the present attitudes of grandma, mother and girl in respect to health and hygiene education.

My dear Dr. Brady:

Last year before I entered high school I wrote and asked you for advice regarding sports. I had always ridden horseback, liked, played tennis, gone in swimming and enjoyed myself generally whenever I wanted to. Then came grandma, who said to mother: "Why, Mary, I'm shocked that you should let your only daughter ruin her health like that!" Mind, I had never had one bit of trouble and learned to look upon what grandma called my "sick time" as a normal function.

Finally mother suggested that I write to you, and you, old dear, upheld mother in her conspiracy to "ruin my health."

I heard several stories at school this year concerning the origin of human life, stories I thought were not true, so I didn't listen or go with the crowd that told them. I asked mother for the true facts and she said she did not feel well enough informed to tell me. I argued I would have to know some time and supposed she would have to tell me the best she could. But finally she said I might write and ask you, now that I am 15 I enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope. Will you please send me the true facts.

Yours gratefully,

When we consider the cowardly conspiracy of silence which this little girl is contending with, and the fairy tales mothers still tell children about a sacred question at the time when the children are rightfully entitled to the unbesmirched truth but so often hear instead tainted "stories" of irresponsible companions we may excuse her for demanding true facts. She may have reason to suspect there is such a thing as an untrue fact. Mothers, grandmothers, fathers and grandfathers might turn this over in their minds.

Grandma's name for a normal function is characteristic of the morbid atmosphere which surrounds the subject in her educational epoch. Mother's hesitancy or uncertainty and lack of confidence is characteristic of her educational epoch. The girl's healthy curiosity and wholesome-mindedness—you've got to concede that, old timers—reflect the present status of education. Stop me if I'm wrong.

Evidently I had sent this little girl a copy of a special letter I have for any girl who asks for it, dealing with the function which grandma, in her benighted state, was concerned about.

Then I have another letter dealing with the other question which this little girl wants answered truthfully. I answer it as truthfully and clearly as I can in a thousand words, and I am glad to send a copy of this letter to any girl over 15 years of age or to any girl whose mother approves.

Grandma's present educational status may be accredited largely to the quick and nostrum propaganda, the only instruction the laity received for many years. Mother's intermediate position I should ascribe to the smattering of instruction she has been able to obtain. The girl's frank pursuit of knowledge is the problem we must contend with today. And as she puts it, she will have to know some time.

The Malayan Days

What is the Malayan system? Every fat woman I know—and it seems that I know no others—dies in my case. They tell great stories about how much they are losing and how much better they are feeling. I get fatter and feel worse every season. Wasn't always this way—when I got married I weighed just 125 pounds and now look at me. (P. S. S.)

Answer—Needless to mention, unless you married a blind man. Tell me instead how much you weigh now, and send a stamped envelope bearing your address. If I find reduction advisable in your case I'll send you the means of matching if not beating any story the other fat women can spin.

My roommate is on the football squad is not permitted to smoke. To get the tobacco taste he chews tobacco. I maintain that it must be harmful since more or less of the juice must be swallowed or absorbed. But he seems to enjoy good health. What would you say about it? (P. P.)

Answer—The effect is the same, whether you eat or smoke the tobacco. Your roommate is playing a

FRENCH POLITICS UNSETTLED

Amnesty Measure Not Expected to Bring Peace
REVENGE WILL BE SOUGHT
Accomplices Are Nearing Time of Trial

Amnesty granted by Parliament to Joseph Calvaux brings back opportunity into French politics. The greatest financial genius of his time, Andre Tardieu, in his dispatch today, hails this action as a triumph for the deists and predicts that the man who was exiled from Paris in 1918 for corresponding with the enemy in war time will shortly become once again the premier of France.

PARIS — (Special) — The Calvaux-Malvy amnesty measure was defended on the grounds that forgiveness would bring appeasement. But the objects of this forgiveness did not wait 48 hours to let France know that they intended neither to forgive nor to forget. They want political revenge. And they will probably get it, because the last five years have admirably paved the way.

PREPARE REVENGE
During these five years the writer repeatedly has proclaimed that this revenge was being prepared. It was born on the day when parliament showed the door to George Clemenceau, who, in order to win the war, had struck down the traitors and prophets of defeat.

The Milkrand, Briand and Poincare ministries worked ardently in the same cause; first, by giving pardons to such notorious friends of former Minister of the Interior Malvy and former Premier Calvaux as Theodore Steeg, Paul Strauss and M. Cheron, and secondly by showing indulgence to those of the same band who remained to be tried—Mme. Bernand de Raviss, the late deputy Paul Vissier and Ernest Judet. Premier Herriot's radical-socialist ministry completed this strange edifice by adding amnesty. And the radicals kept discreetly quiet about it when they were in the minority.

Other accomplices of 1917 are now on their way toward amnesty of retrial, namely, Landau, Goldschmidt and Marion of the notorious newspaper Bonnet Rouge. The man Cottin, who shot M. Clemenceau and nearly killed him, has been liberated. And M. Poincare, who never suggested amnesty or pardon nor even discussed either, while he was president at the time of Malvy's trial nor during his recent long premiership, wishes today to declare that he was regarded Malvy as a patriot.

WILL COME BACK
This tardy testimonial scarcely adds to M. Poincare's stature; but it helps both Malvy and Calvaux who now returns to power. Will they come back during the present parliament. The writer has not the slightest doubt of it for years without being believed. There were many trials for treason and defeatism during the war but really they were all one affair. Calvaux and Malvy were linked with Bolo Pasha, Lavall, Almerada, Lanier and Judet. Some are now dead but with those exceptions all are still together.

The Calvaux-Malvy campaign runs parallel with publication of the notebook of former Ambassador Georges Loebe, from which Germany draws arguments of innocence. Who published it? Judet. Where? In the Review published by the two notorious defeatists, Aroos and Colla. Who first announced it? The former German propaganda agent, Hariman, who was condemned to death during the war.

How will this return be effected? The writer believes it will be thru a future Poincare ministry in which M. Calvaux will be finance minister as a stepping stone to the premiership.

Besides the direct evidence placed before the high court concerning Calvaux's relations with enemy agents, there are two more general and graver charges. First, he constantly counted on a French defeat. Secondly, he worked secretly—and today boasts of it—for a rapid peace.

His own party, even, did not protest against his condemnation and five party congresses since 1920 neither demanded amnesty nor retrial. Yet today he is backed by the Socialists and a third of the Radicals. He intimidates parliament and M. Poincare, who did all in his power to bring him to justice six years ago, votes today for amnesty. So it is not difficult to predict that he will dominate internal and external policies during the present parliament.

THE DEFEATISTS WHO SO DISTURBED American opinion during the war, have won the first leg of their revenge. And as they trumpet their victory, nobody can longer doubt what the writer repeatedly has warned—that a cowardly parliament and its intriguing chiefs are mainly responsible for today's triumph of defeatism.

SEEKS LEADER

N. Y. Senator Pleads for United Democratic Party

NEW YORK—U. S. Sen. Royal S. Copeland is searching for a Democratic state "boss." Since election day, he says he has been swamped with letters urging unified and aggressive Democratic action upstate and he announced last night that he favors the selection of a real leader. Charging that the last campaign in this state was fought without plan or strategy of any kind, the senator sounded a call for "real leadership."

Governor Smith, the senator said, "is the most popular man in the history of American politics," yet he stated "a great political party like the Democratic party cannot depend for its existence on an occasional success, due to the personal popularity of an exceptional man or build its future on such foundation."

ARTHUR BRISBAKE, editor, caused another ripple in the political pond when at a testimonial dinner given last night to George J. Ryan, president of the board of education, he announced that if Mayor Hylan's enemies should refuse to give him a renomination, William R. Hearst would run the mayor at the head of an independent ticket.

DEATH SENTENCE

Man Charged With Killing Policeman Found Guilty

CLEVELAND — (By United Press) — "And that on the 10th day of March, between midnight and sunrise, the warden will cause a current of electricity to pass thru your body until you are dead."

With these words of doom ringing in his ears, Joe Prymas, condemned slayer of Patrolman Michael Hahnel, sat on his cot in county jail today.

A few hours before he had stood white-faced, but erect in the courtroom of Judge Frank Phillips and heard the death sentence. The verdict came as the first in Cuyahoga county carrying the death penalty in the case of a white man since the conviction of the Sly-Fanner gang in 1921.

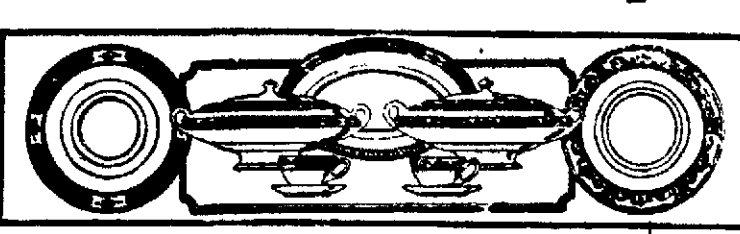

There were tears in the eyes of the four women jurors. Their voices quavered, but there was no hesitancy in their answer when the jury was polled. A guard passed the word to Albert "Red" Holt whose case goes to a jury early today for his part in the slaying.

FARMERS FIGHT POWER LINE

Ohio Power Co. Defendants in Putnam-co Land Suits

INJUNCTION ARE ASKED

Misrepresentation, Fraud and Deceit Charged in Actions

OTTAWA — A record number of new cases, instituted against one company, was filed here late Monday. When fifteen injunction suits to prevent the Ohio Power Co. from erecting steel towers for the transmission of its power lines, were entered by farmers of Jennings and Montgomery.

Each of the fifteen plaintiffs in the case set forth that representatives of the Ohio Power Co. in obtaining a contract last July, procured the grants from misrepresentation, fraud and deceit.

Each plaintiff also states that the instruments be cancelled and that they be restored to all their former rights and be given costs in the case.

Plaintiffs in the cases were: Mordern C. Nutter and his wife, Bertha, who own the east one-half of a northwest quarter of land in Jennings.

George Van Lehn and his wife, Anna, who own 80 acres in Jennings.

Frank B. Ricker, who owns 60 acres in Jennings.

Joseph B. Ricker, who owns 120 acres in Montgomery.

Jacob and Edward Catelberg, who own 160 acres in Jennings.

PROSECUTED BY N. J. WATKINS, Attorney at Law, Lima, Ohio.

Louis Van Lehn and his wife, Mary, who own the northwest quarter of a southeast quarter and the west one-half of a southeast quarter in Jennings.

William W. Wacker, who owns six acres of land in Jennings.

David Kriemeyer and his wife, Clara, who own the east one-half of a northwest quarter in Jennings.

Frank Herbel, who owns 30 acres of land in Jennings.

Edna C. Calkins, who owns nine acres in Jennings.

Paul Utrup, who owns 42 acres in Montgomery.

Henry Van Os and his wife, Catharine, who own the northeast quarter of a southeast quarter in Jennings.

Edward S. Evans and his wife, Beadie, who own the east one-half of a northwest quarter in Jennings.

Charles M. Ricker, who owns 20 acres of land in Jennings.

Otto Kordelitz, who owns 20 acres in Montgomery.

The petition asserts that the company is engaged in erecting, maintaining and operating power plants and electric lines for transmission of electric energy from power plants to individual residences.

The contract entered into last July gave the power company the authority to erect power lines and steel towers over and across the lands of the farmers who instituted the suit.

ALLEGATIONS — According to the petition, the company represented that the towers would be constructed so that they could form the ground under them and drive them in under the towers in farming the ground and not be required to drive around the towers.

It was represented also, it is charged, that the towers and power lines were harmless, whereas are known to be highly dangerous.

It was also alleged, the petition says, that the towers were to be 20 feet above the ground, with little or no slack in the wires, but that they are to be placed only 20 feet in height.

Each avers that had the true situation been told them, they would not have entered into the contract.

Each was granted a temporary injunction preventing the representatives of the company from erecting the lines and towers.

Lindemann & Lindemann, of Delphos, and Klinger & Klinger, of Lima, have been engaged by the farmers to contest the action of the Power Co. They filed the suits.

These were harmless, whereas are known to be highly dangerous.

SUIT FOR $17,000 IN COMMISSION IS HEARD

Court of appeals Tuesday heard arguments in a suit for $17,000 brought by Frank P. Sevier, tire dealer against Fisk Tire & Rubber Co., of Chicopee Falls, Mass., for alleged commission earned thru sale of tires to Lima truck plants during the World War.

Sevier sold upward of $300,000 worth of tires to the Garford and Gram-Bernstein plants during the war. He claims he was promised pay for his work. A common pleas jury awarded him a verdict for approximately $2,000, the difference between $8,000 owed the tire concern by Sevier and the estimated amount of his commissions.

 "In Dutch" Here
 Gallagher and Shean, those unique comedians who were favorites last year in the Greenwich Village Follies will be seen at the Lyric Opera house for one performance only Tuesday night in "In Dutch." This is a musical play with a large cast and chorus and is said to equal in many respects the larger musical revues.

EXCHANGE CLUB TO INSTALL COMMUNITY CHRISTMAS PROGRAM
 COLUMBUS GROVE—Plans were formulated and first steps taken at the meeting of the Exchange Club, Monday night, for the community Christmas tree, which will be held in City park under auspices of the club.

Reports were given by a committee of women, who are working under direction of Dr. A. E. Steiner, for the purpose of procuring gifts of used toys and funds.

Another committee has visited every residence in the town and obtained the names of children under twelve years of age. It is to each of these that a treat will be handed from the tree. John L. Graham is chairman of this committee.

Born and girls who might otherwise not receive a visit from Santa Claus will be given toys and necessities from the tree. Basket dinners will be sent by the club to homes where Santa Claus otherwise might not enter.

Schools who have canvassed to show reported that 500 children under less than twelve years of age were found. All of these will be remembered with gifts from the tree.

ESTIMATORS SET COST OF NORTH-ST PAVING

Improvement of North-st from Cole-st to Woodlawn-av, will cost approximately $17,721 or $7.76 a front foot, according to a report submitted Monday night by the city estimating board.

Appointment of Harvey C. Cridder as a member of the estimating board to replace George Foltz was approved by the commission in authorizing the preparation of estimates on 23 streets within the city which have been improved.

GOMPERS AGAIN

Veteran Labor Head Expected Stated for Berth

EL PASO, Tex.—(By United Press)—Re-election of Samuel Gompers as president and disapproval of a proposal to put labor on record as opposed to the League of Nations or a world court, were the two important actions expected to close the annual convention of the American Federation of Labor here today.

The convention was expected to approve the stand of the committee on international relations in opposing the resolution of the International Seamen's Union which protested against American entry into either the world court or League of Nations.

The veteran Gompers has no opposition in the convention and his election as head of the labor movement for the 44th time was practically assured.

With the gas on but 25 minutes, can you go away for the afternoon and return to find a perfectly cooked meal? You could if you cooked as some women in this city do—on the Chambers Fireless Gas Range. You would not only free your hours for many things you have in mind, but would cut your gas bills in half and make food more delicious by keeping the rich juices in. For the dishes you roasted or baked in the specially insulated Chambers Oven and those you boiled or stewed under the Thermomane, you would burn gas only a few minutes, then turn it off. Returned heat would finish the cooking and on returning you could count your gains in economies of gas, time, effort, food and flavor.

THE YELLOW BAND

BEHOLD HERE TODAY

Corrigan, a small, stout, middle-aged man with a broad forehead and a thick nose, was sitting in a high-backed chair, looking out of the window. He was wearing a dark suit and a white shirt with a dark tie. He was looking out of the window with a thoughtful expression. The room was dimly lit, and the window looked out onto a dark street. He was looking out of the window with a thoughtful expression. The room was dimly lit, and the window looked out onto a dark street.

alone in these parts runs mighty big risks. I've taken risks ever since I was born, but I never take unreasonable ones. You follow me, don't you?"

Both men nodded. Corrigan got up from his chair and walked to the veranda rail.

"I say, you fellows," he said, "just look at that sunset. If you could manage to get that on to paper, there's not a man alive'd believe you."

"Marvelous!" agreed Fellowes, leaning round in his chair. "Makes one feel thirsty," announced White.

"Touch the bell," said Corrigan. "I'm afraid I shall never reform you, my boy. There's not an atom of art in your soul!"

The boy shuffled in and presently Corrigan stood between the two men, a glass in his hand.

"I guess you're wondering just how much I know beyond what's written on that paper, and how I happen to know it. I'm going to enlighten you as much as I can. I've always had a peculiar habit of pushing in at awkward moments. It's a disease with me. I know a row with our Hebrew friends over the way yesterday, and decided to tell the D. O. all about it. A rational man, and he left it till daylight. I strolled over to Putnam directly after making."

"Corrigan's way!" murmured White, watching the bubbles rising in his glass.

"Yes, Corrigan's way. You'll never see the lashing growing between my trees. I arrived a matter of minutes too late to help Browning, but in hours of time we can't all there was to know concerning how he died." He raised one finger to emphasize the importance of his next statement. "Browning was drugged before Zarlman's head-hunters looked in." His voice broke. "He didn't have a dog's chance, but—" He brought his fist down on the table, sending a glass humming like a tuning fork. "I'm going to get that swine who drugged him, and, by Heaven, I'll make him pay for it, even if I have to go down to hell to find him!"

In the grim silence that followed, Fellowes gripped Corrigan's hand impulsively.

White clutched the table with both hands, his eyes strangely magnified by the glasses he wore, sparkling in the last fleeing half-light before the fall of darkness.

"I'm with you every time," he blurted out with enthusiasm.

Night fell like a spangled curtain of black velvet. The boy crept in and lit the swinging lamp, rolling up the sun blinds. (To Be Continued.)

THE TANGLE

An Intimate Story of Innermost Emotions Revealed in Private Letters

LETTER FOR JOHN ALDEN

I have been worrying, Leslie dear, about you getting settled in our new home. Carpenters and painters are always a strain on one's nerves and just now you want as much peace and quiet as possible.

Sweetheart, we are going to call that baby Leslie. I know you think I am an unimaginative person and not to be hard and rather cross at times but I have built many a cradle since I knew that baby was coming to us.

Leslie, darling, no man in the world ever had a wife like mine. I do not think any other woman in the world could live with me, but I love you, love you with every thought of my soul. I want you to realize this for I know my shortcomings perhaps better than anyone else knows them. I know I probably will make you unhappy many times in the future with my thoughtlessness, but I want you to understand that selfish and thoughtless and self-centered as I am, I love you as much as I am capable of loving anyone.

Please, please, wife of mine, do not forget that I do not realize perfectly that all the great things that have come to me the last few years have come to me thru you. I cannot talk of it to anyone, least of all to you, but deep in my heart I know that without you and your ever-redeeming love I would be nothing.

There, Leslie dear, I have gotten it out of my system and I feel better.

I wish I could say to you one of the love letters I have in my heart, but I can't.

This is the first letter I have written with my own hand for long time, but Leslie dear, I wanted to tell you all that you are to me and I could not let any other person know the blessed truth.

Darling mine, I hope you will be as forgiving in the future as you have been in the past for otherwise I am afraid that I will be a very unhappy man. It is only forgiving wives that make marriage a success. In my heart, I know this is true, for no one has ever needed forgiveness more than I.

No, dear, I am not asking you

Important to All Women
Readers of This Paper

Thousands upon thousands of women have kidney or bladder trouble and never suspect it. Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease.

If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased.

You may suffer pain in the back, headache and loss of ambition.

Poor health makes you nervous, irritable and maybe dependent; it makes any one so.

But hundreds of women claim that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, by restoring health to the kidneys, proved to be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions.

Many send for a sample bottle to see what Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder medicine will do for them. By enclosing ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., you will receive sample size bottle by Parcel Post. You can purchase medicine and large size bottles at all drug stores.

The Easiest Way To End Dandruff

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely, and that is to dissolve it. This destroys it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and two or three more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will grow so fast, so glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.

Old-Time Cough Remedy—Fine Tar and Honey—Still Best

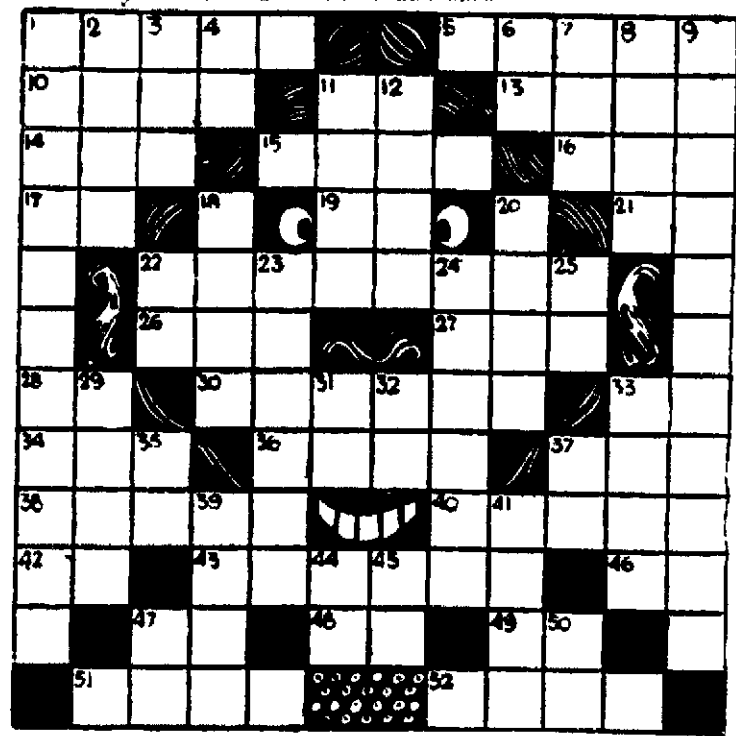

According to specialists, there is really nothing better or quicker acting for coughs, chest colds, bronchitis, spasmodic croup and throat irritation than good old tar and honey. No matter whether the cough is dry and tight, or loose with much mucus, the remedy quickly aids in the removal of the phlegm and congestion, which is the direct cause of the coughing, relieving soreness, while the honey both soothes irritation and gives a pleasant taste.

The original compound, which has been used in thousands of families for many years, is Dr. Bell's Fine-Tar Honey. It has had many imitations, but still remains the best, as it is scientifically compounded of just the right proportions of pine tar and other healing ingredients which the best doctors have found to aid in giving quick relief. It contains absolutely no narcotics or harmful drugs, so can be given to young and old alike. If you want the cure you get the original Dr. Bell's Fine-Tar Honey only. Only 30c. at any good drug store.
